CPPI 2008 Petroleum Fuel Carrier Safety Awards - Western Division

On April 16, 2009, the Canadian Petroleum Products Institute (CPPI)¹ recognized four transportation companies that completed the delivery of petroleum products in a safe manner during 2008. Collectively, these four carriers made over 103,962 deliveries during the year on behalf of CPPI member companies in Western Canada.

The carrier safety awards recognize western division contracted carriers for:

- Reduction in incident frequencies versus the previous calendar year.
- Overall safety performance in performance of their responsibilities.
- Promotion of driver and fleet safety within the transportation industry.

John Skowronski, Director of Environmental Affairs for CPPI made the following presentations at the awards lunch in Calgary, AB:

- Improvement award for reduced product mixes – Mantei's Transport
- Improvement award for reduced product spills – Trimac Transportation
- Improvement award for reduced vehicle accidents – Denwill Enterprises
- Improvement award for reduced personal injuries – Trimac Transportation
- The award for best overall carrier who excelled in all safety performance areas – Wheeler Transport.
